

In the slave quarters, the black mother nursed the son of plantation mistress and races mingled in the pursuit of integration of peoples.

The black mother milk epitomized the union that should exist between people. Skin color does not differentiate the spirits who are in the process of evolution because, in various earthly romagens take shelter in bodies of different races. This is to learn to respect people of different races like his brothers in the journey towards God.

Life teaches that we are spirits in evolution and that we are brothers in search of the same ideal: the integration with God and reach perfection.

Many warn that this is utopia, because men still seek their individualistic ideals, forgetting completely the command of Jesus: - "Love God above all things and your neighbor as yourself."

The main theme of life is spiritual progress and what happens among men that clashes that thought is the result of inferiority when humanity still lives.

Mothers are the foundation of families, supporters who welcome the children when they experience problems.

World mothers are the shining stars of heaven on earth. Black mothers, yellow, Indian, white, of all races, of all cities, more distant villages, of large cities, the slums, the shelters, the streets ...

All deserve our appreciation and gratitude because they were not, we would not be walking in this world, we would not have the opportunity to wake up in the morning and go to the toil.

Mothers are the dreamers that generated the children so that the opportunity was given to all spirits who intend to walk in the paths of the world to settle the debts of the past and sow the future.

Mother is the being whom God chose to give life everywhere, at all times, sowing the lights in the generations that humanity flourish in their ideals.

Mother is so important that even Jesus - the greatest Spirit who incarnated on earth, the leader of our galaxy - had one.

Mary, the mother of Jesus, is all the mothers of the earth due to its self-denial, humility, honesty, selflessness and unconditional love.

The mother of Jesus accepts all the world's mothers in her lap, nursing their pain, softening his troubles, blessing their aspirations, sanctifying their desire to enlighten the children of our world.

Luiz Marini 09-05-2015

Translation by Luana Sachet